

Midway Chatter

The track record of 2:04 at Pickaway County Fair, set a year ago by the late Forrest Short driving Jerry Macpherson, is in jeopardy today.

The fifth race on the harness racing card is a 3-year-old pace stake. And among the horses going for the winner's share of the $2,248.62 purse is Miracle Michael who has a record of 1:59 and has won 11 of 15 starts, placed second three times and third once and has earnings totaling $27,308 this year.

Pushing Miracle Michael to a record could be by Cathy Baron who has a mark of 2:03.3.

Because of the number of heats raced yesterday, there was little time between races for wagering. A breakdown in the communication system between the judges stand and the starting gate created some confusion, especially for that fifth heat of the day, which was closed to wagering because of this confusion. Race secretary John Fissell today offered his apologies to racing fans and also his appreciation to them for their cooperation. He noted the problems have been solved and today's program should run more smoothly.

Fair King and Queen Jim Fausnaugh and Barb Bolender were on Jerry Rasor's weather show on Columbus TV Tuesday night. Jerry is a Pickaway County native, hailing from the metropolis of Commercial Point.

Dick Isler, executive secretary of the Ohio Pork Producers Council, was at the fair yesterday. Isler likes to take time from his busy schedule to attend some of the bigger and better swine shows around the state, especially in the counties where there is an active pork council as in Pickaway County.

According to Isler, Pickaway County's junior fair swine show ranks with the top three or four in the state. He was highly complimentary of the quality of the animals in the market hog show.

Following the races this evening, the judges stand on the infield will be taken down to permit an unobstructed view of the tractor pulling course. Next year, the fair board hopes to construct a judges stand at the top of the grandstands.

Pickaway County Fair Board President Paul Dean reports attendance is excellent at the fair. Because there is no admission charged, there is no way of coming up with an accurate figure of attendance at the fair.

Here's our recipe for attendance. There are 2,000 4-H members there every day. Add another 2,000 parents, throw in 2,000 more uncles, aunts and grandparents, 1,000 fun-seekers, 1,000 race fans, 3,000 tractor pulling and another 1,000 for good measure and you come up with about 12,000 very happy people. Our estimate is conservative, we feel, and if you are not among those 12,000-odd folks, get out to the fair today.

You'll see some of the finest horse flesh in the state at the harness races, the best tractor pullers and tractors in the nation, and fine industrial exhibits and the excellent homemaking, art, flower show, grain and vegetable exhibit and poultry and livestock shows. You'll see some fine people, too—your neighbors.

Our apologies to the youngsters who competed in the 4-H Horse Show Monday at the Pickaway county fair. Due to our error in recording class numbers rather than the actual titles of the classes and then referring to the fair premium book for the titles, the classes were misnamed.

This error was called to our attention today, but too late for the full correction to be made in time for today's edition of The Herald. The correct results will appear in Thursday's edition.

2 Face Murder Trial As Adults

MIAMI, Okla. (AP) — Two teen-aged brothers from Texas were certified as adults Tuesday to stand trial on first degree murder charges in the April 9 slaying of Gary Redmon, Dayton, Ohio, authorities said here Tuesday.

Gary Dale Turner, 17, and Raymond Lee Turner, 16, both of Adrian, Tex., had their arraignment set for Wednesday.

They are accused of killing the 21-year-old Redmon, whose body was found stuffed in a sleeping bag under a culvert north of Watts, Okla., in Adair County on April 16.

The brothers were arrested in Adrian on April 21.

It was reported they were seen driving Redmon's camper.

School Aid Formula Stalls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The equal-yield school bill was due to be dumped back into committee today after the Senate refused to agree to the House version of the long-delayed plan.

A joint conference committee was appointed Tuesday to try to work out another compromise on the bill.

Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, and Assistant Majority Leader M. Morris Jackson, D-21 Cleveland, prevailed during a two-hour caucus despite sentiment among some Democrats to send the bill on to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The 17-14 vote against concurrence was seen as a victory for Ocasek, who objected to lowering the requirement that a district pay 22 mills of local taxes to qualify for state aid. The bill would have required only 20 mills.

The Akron University professor, an advocate of the equal yield concept, favors the higher qualifier to aid districts that make a greater local tax effort.

Ocasek appointed Jackson and Sens. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, and Oakley Collins, R-17 Ironton, to the conference committee.

They will line up against Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, chairman of the House Finance Committee, and Reps. Robert W. Jaskulski, D-11 Cleveland and Ben Rose, R-64 Lima.

Shoemaker and Rose are ready to oppose the 22-mill requirement.

Support for the bill from two powerful lobbies, the Ohio Realtors Association and the Ohio Farm Bureau, hinges on the lower millage.

Pickaway County will have two representatives on the six-member joint conference committee that will meet today in an attempt to work out a compromise on the equal-yield school bill.

They are Senator Oakley Collins and Representative Myrl Shoemaker.

Sen. Collins expressed disappointment that his colleagues failed to pass the bill Tuesday, saying the House version was "what I was looking for."

"Rep. Shoemaker and I will work hard to hold the lines in hopes of coming out of the conference with a good school bill that won't raise taxes," he said.

Jackson is expected to push for more money for Cleveland, which lost funds in the House redrafting of the bill.

"We're not going to be pressured to move too fast," the Cleveland lawmaker said.

A clerical error caused confusion over the 17-14 Senate vote.

Sen. William F. Bowen, D-9 Cincinnati, voted "no," but was incorrectly recorded as voting for concurrence. The roll could not be changed after it was announced.

Two other Democrats, Sen. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, and Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, voted with Republicans in favor of the House changes.

Rep. Theodore Gray, R-3 Columbus, the lone Republican voting for a conference committee said he acted out legislative courtesy for the prime sponsor, Jackson.

"The sponsor has a right to reject concurrence," Gray said.

The latest snag in the embattled measure, which passed the House May 14, raised the possibility that legislators would not complete action before the Aug. 1 adjournment date.

The equal yield concept is designed to assure that an equal local tax effort would be rewarded with an equal return.

Solons, Officials Seek Compromise On Energy Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is offering to drop a 60-cent tariff on refined petroleum imports if Congress adopts President Ford's plan to decontrol domestic crude oil prices.

Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said the 60-cents-per-barrel tariff, imposed by Ford when he announced a second tariff for imported crude, affects two million barrels of refined fuels daily.

The lower costs must be passed on to consumers, Zarb said, adding that the end of the tariff would save consumers about $1.2 million each day.

Zarb's proposal, which would leave crude oil tariffs at their present $2-per-barrel level, came after the House Rules Committee cleared the way for full House votes on two key energy proposals.

One measure is a resolution rejecting Ford's latest program for phasing out price controls on 60 per cent of U.S.-produced oil. Friday is the deadline for such a vote. The Ford program becomes effective unless killed by a majority in either the House or Senate by then.

The Rules Committee also sent to the House floor an amendment by Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Tex., that would rewrite the Ford decontrol plan and tie it to a windfall profits tax on oilmen.

No specific time was set for the resolution to reject the Ford program, and sources said the vote, expected to be close, would depend on how the House acted on the Krueger amendment.

The Zarb proposal may bring added support to the Ford oil price decontrol plan, especially from states expected to benefit most from the removal of the 60-cent tariff on refined imports.

Those states are California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia, according to federal officials.

The Ford plan would decontrol prices for "old oil" from wells in production before 1972 over a 39-month period with a ceiling of $11.50. Old oil is now controlled at $5.25 per barrel. At the same time, prices for other domestic oil, now at about $13 per barrel would be rolled back to $11.50 and allowed to rise by 5 cents a month beginning Oct. 1.

Ford previously presented a plan, killed by the House, that would have phased out existing price controls over the coming 30 months with a $13.50-per-barrel top applied on prices during that period.

Human Chain Across America Pushed As Bicentennial Idea

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorney Marvin J. Rosenblum has a "monumental" plan for citizen involvement and unifying the United States on its 200th birthday celebration next July 4: A human chain of millions of Americans holding hands from sea to sea.

"Nothing like this has ever been attempted or done by any country," Rosenblum says of the "Hands Across the Nation" concept. He sees it as a "national Woodstock," a "Mt. Rushmore of American emotion," a "Great Wall of People" comparable to the Great Wall of China, with Americans clasping hands for a moment from coast to coast.

So far, his idea has no official support. But the 32-year-old attorney is undaunted.

"You have to absorb it," he conceded in a recent interview. He said that when the idea first occurred to him, "I thought it was harebrained."

Rosenblum figures such a chain would take about 4 million persons, or roughly 2 per cent of the nation's population, with 1,320 persons per mile, each standing 4 feet apart. There are 5,280 feet in a mile.

He says that selecting a route and circumventing natural barriers such as the Rocky Mountains, deserts and great bodies of water would be formidable. And he admits that organizing the chain on state, county and local levels could be "an incredible organizational problem."

But he maintains it can be accomplished.

"It's the grass roots kind of thing" in which the people can really get involved, he says.

"It would go down in history not only as a unique bicentennial celebration but probably would last for hundreds of years afterwards as a mark of the human will. It would show that we're still not so large that we can't be linked together at one moment."

Rosenblum bounced the idea off some of the nation's largest corporations, the Bicentennial Committee, the White House and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

The committee wasn't interested. Neither were the corporations. The White House said it would pass the idea to the Bicentennial Committee. Rosenblum said Kennedy did not respond.

Set Procedures For Insurance

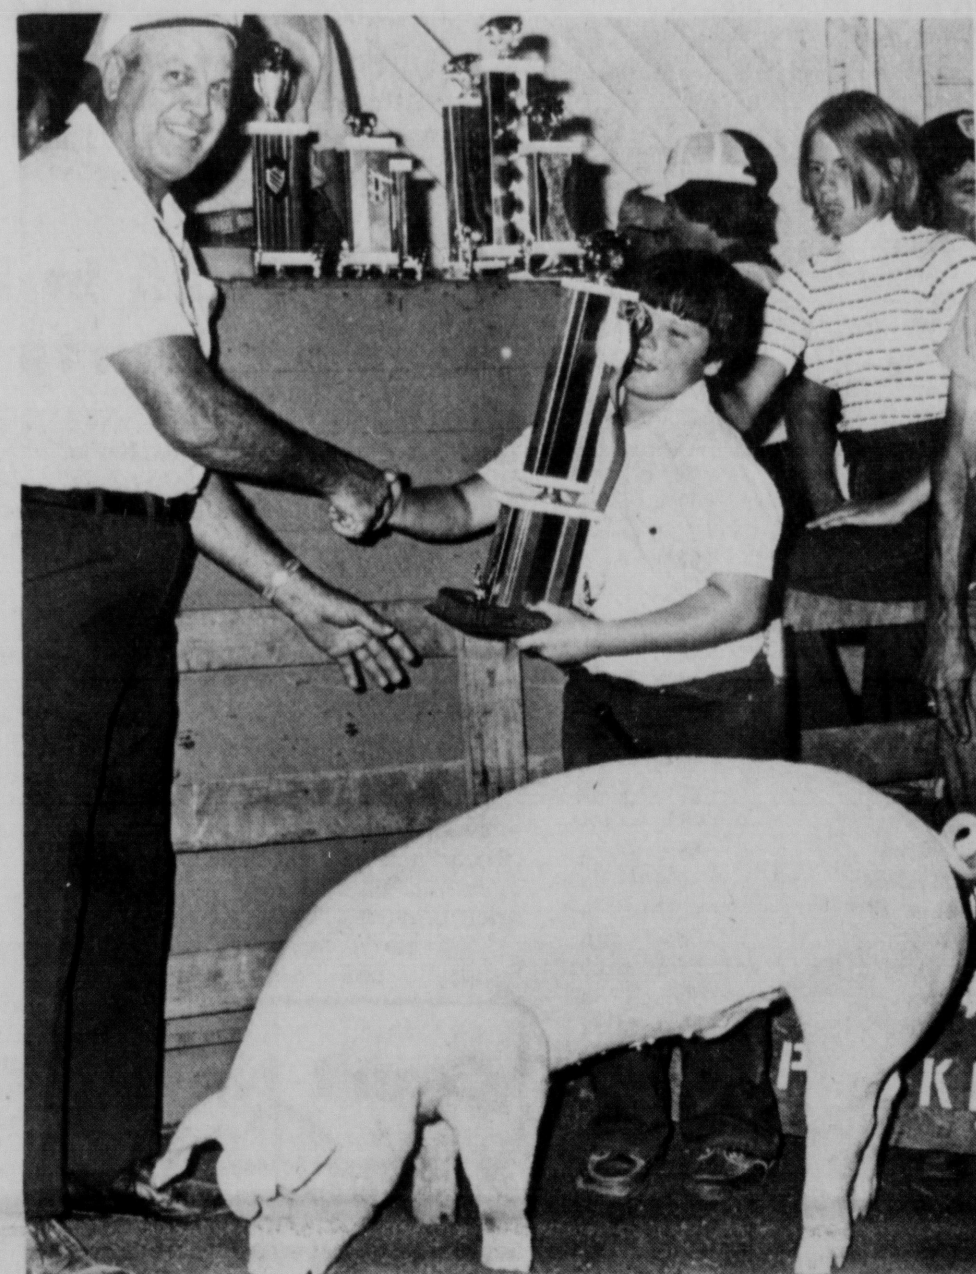

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Procedures for establishment of the joint underwriters pool to provide medical malpractice insurance for the state's physicians have been initiated by the Department of Insurance.

The department Tuesday filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown an emergency rule "establishing procedures and requirements for a mandatory risk sharing, non-profit plan to provide medical professional liability insurance coverage on a self-supporting basis."

The rule was adopted Monday by executive order of Gov. James Rhodes.

Senators Approve Pay Increase Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to give members of Congress and other top federal officials what an opponent calls a "guaranteed annual increase in salary."

Supporters defended the pay raise, sent to the House on Tuesday on a 58 to 29 vote, as an act of simple justice for members of Congress. They stressed that members of Congress have not had a raise in their $42,500 annual salaries since March 1969, while the cost of living has increased 47.5 per cent.

"The Senate is not a rich man's club" but continued denial of higher pay "will make it so," said Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, in support of the pay raise proposal. He contended that only rich people would be able to serve unless salaries are increased.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., opposed the bill because it would guarantee annual pay increases. He termed this a "backdoor" approach. He said that if members of Congress want to raise their pay they should vote for it directly each time.

Besides members of Congress, the cost-of-living raise would apply to Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and House Speaker Carl Albert, all of whom now receive $62,500.

The annual increase also would go to Supreme Court associate justices and Cabinet members, who now earn $60,000 a year, as well as to about 14,000 federal employees whose salaries have been frozen since 1969 at a $36,000 ceiling.

The amount of the cost-of-living increase would be determined annually by the president unless disapproved by Congress either in whole or in part.

President Ford has indicated he will recommend a 5 per cent cost-of-living raise this year, although the inflation rate has been about 8.6 per cent during the past year.

A 5 per cent raise would increase those in the $62,500 bracket to $65,625 and the pay of members of Congress to $44,625.

The pay raise was passed as an amendment to an unrelated bill on safety standards for postal workers.

Mohammed Takes Over In Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian broadcasts say the government and army of black Africa's largest and richest nation are headed by Brig. Muritala Rufai Mohammed, 38, one-time ally of Gen. Yakubu Gowon who was ousted in Tuesday's bloodless coup.

London newspapers said there are no major political differences between Gowon and the new ruler of Nigeria, third largest supplier of oil imports for the United States, after Canada and Venezuela.

U.S. investments in Nigeria are estimated at $1 billion, mostly in the nation's $11 billion-a-year oil industry. Nigeria was sealed off from the outside world and radio broadcasts were virtually the only source of news after the takeover.

Gowon was in Kampala, Uganda, attending a summit of the Organization of African Unity when the coup was announced over Lagos Radio by his friend, Col. Joseph Garba, commander of Gowon's elite guard.

The radio announced a dusk-to-dawn curfew in Lagos. The capital's airport was closed by troops, most communications were terminated and borders were closed. No violence was reported anywhere in the nation.

Diplomats in Kampala said Lagos and surrounding areas were "surprisingly calm" late Tuesday.

Senators Approve Pay Increase Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to give members of Congress and other top federal officials what an opponent calls a "guaranteed annual increase in salary."

Supporters defended the pay raise, sent to the House on Tuesday on a 58 to 29 vote, as an act of simple justice for members of Congress. They stressed that members of Congress have not had a raise in their $42,500 annual salaries since March 1969, while the cost of living has increased 47.5 per cent.

"The Senate is not a rich man's club" but continued denial of higher pay "will make it so," said Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, in support of the pay raise proposal. He contended that only rich people would be able to serve unless salaries are increased.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., opposed the bill because it would guarantee annual pay increases. He termed this a "backdoor" approach. He said that if members of Congress want to raise their pay they should vote for it directly each time.

Besides members of Congress, the cost-of-living raise would apply to Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and House Speaker Carl Albert, all of whom now receive $62,500.

The annual increase also would go to Supreme Court associate justices and Cabinet members, who now earn $60,000 a year, as well as to about 14,000 federal employees whose salaries have been frozen since 1969 at a $36,000 ceiling.

The amount of the cost-of-living increase would be determined annually by the president unless disapproved by Congress either in whole or in part.

President Ford has indicated he will recommend a 5 per cent cost-of-living raise this year, although the inflation rate has been about 8.6 per cent during the past year.

A 5 per cent raise would increase

those in the $62,500 bracket to $65,625 and the pay of members of Congress to $44,625.

The pay raise was passed as an amendment to an unrelated bill on safety standards for postal workers.

Mohammed Takes Over In Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian broadcasts say the government and army of black Africa's largest and richest nation are headed by Brig. Murtala Rufai Mohammed, 38, one-time ally of Gen. Yakubu Gowon who was ousted in Tuesday's bloodless coup.

London newspapers said there are no major political differences between Gowon and the new ruler of Nigeria, third largest supplier of oil imports for the United States, after Canada and Venezuela.

U.S. investments in Nigeria are estimated at $1 billion, mostly in the nation's $11 billion-a-year oil industry. Nigeria was sealed off from the outside world and radio broadcasts were virtually the only source of news after the takeover.

Gowon was in Kampala, Uganda, attending a summit of the Organization of African Unity when the coup was announced over Lagos Radio by his friend, Col. Joseph Garba, commander of Gowon's elite guard.

The radio announced a dusk-to-dawn curfew in Lagos. The capital's airport was closed by troops, most communications were terminated and borders were closed. No violence was reported anywhere in the nation.

Diplomats in Kampala said Lagos and surrounding areas were "surprisingly calm" late Tuesday.

The First Female Face In Circulation

DEAR ABBY: A women's libber (obviously) wanted to know why no woman's face had ever appeared on a U.S. dollar bill or any other denomination. You polled 12 women, asking how they felt about it. Nine agreed that it was time a woman got her face on paper money, two said they didn't care one way or the other and one said, "I don't want to get my face on any folding money, but I'd like to get my HANDS on some."

Abby, didn't you know that Martha Washington's picture appeared on the silver-dollar certificate in 1891?

T.O.W. DEAR T.O.W.: I do now. I also learned from my reader that Martha wasn't the first female to have her face on folding money. Pocahontas appeared on a $20 National Bank Note in 1875.

DEAR ABBY: My 73-year-old husband has been providing my best friend (she is 71) with friendship, affection and all manner of "looking after" since her husband's death 15 months ago.

She has been my friend for 38 years. Her husband, also an old friend, was an invalid for several years, and when he died, she needed the strong shoulder of a man. My husband volunteered with my full approval.

I slowly came to realize that my husband was spending more time with my friend than with me.

He admitted that he had grown very "fond" of her and enjoyed being "needed". Then she confessed to having developed a deep affection for my husband. Of course they both said they "love me" and don't want to hurt me.

She advised me to "stay put" until we could work things out.

Does this happen frequently in the geriatric set? And what should I do? I am 72. This is my second marriage. It has lasted 30 years. Thirty years ago,

I was the other woman. Irony isn't it?

HARD STAYING. DEAR HARD: What was, was. Your husband is trying to catch a few moonbeams in the twilight of his life. Stay put, and he'll probably get things in focus again.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15, and my parents are in the process of getting a divorce.

I can understand their wanting to be apart because they fought when they were together, but the pressure I get from both is something terrible.

Each puts down the other one, and both try to find out who the other is seeing.

Please help me. How can I tell them to get off my back?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Tell them both that you don't want to report to either one. And that should settle it.

Coming In The Side Door

As has been the practice for several years, the nation's lawmakers are slipping in the side door with a pay raise for themselves.

With absolutely no fanfare, the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee came up with a measure giving legislators, the vice president cabinet members, executives and federal judges a boost in salary.

The measure was added to a House-passed bill requiring the Postal Service to comply with the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

For the past several years, members of Congress have been going through a great series of contortions to avoid having a flat vote on pay hikes.

Some brilliant technician decided the best way to go about an unpopular item was to have a commission decide on pay raises that would go into effect unless a "no" vote was cast.

In this case, a "yes" vote will be required, but on a measure not remotely connected with the matter of salaries in the federal government.

Perhaps one of the most startling statements came from Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, who spoke of "hard-pressed federal officials in the upper echelon" who he said have "suffered long enough from congressional inaction."

It is a little difficult, to say the least, to envision poor, suffering officials eking out an existence on pay ranging from around $36,000 per year.

In addition, congressmen and senators making $42,500 a year would be raised to about $44,625. This salary is in addition to a long list of benefits provided for our lawmakers, including low-priced food in Capitol cafeterias, cheap haircuts, and postage stamp funds that do not even have to be accounted for.

In addition to the massive benefits, legislators have a pension plan that would make many a labor union member swoon in a tizzy of delight.

Perhaps a better idea than a pay raise would be to pay legislators and officials $8,000 to $12,000 per year, a range representing what a majority of the nation's citizens must live on. If that should happen, the nations leaders would find that their hair was not the only thing getting trimmed.

Dangers Of Agression

By JIM BISHOP

When sex is cheap, integrity disintegrates. Character crumbles. Honor is onerous. Women's liberation becomes male emasculation. Men debate the value of whatever is free.

Male gluttony, in whatever form, has always led to nausea. His sexual appetite, throughout history, has always been tamed and moderated by women who set a high price on virtue.

The husband who cheats has always been punished. Now, in a violent convulsion of sexual values, women have reversed the roles in the name of liberation. They are the aggressors.

The sexual chase is instinctive with men. They feel virile if they must hunt, seek, persuade and marry. The more difficult she is to attain, the safer he feels when he gets her.

This year, 39 per cent of all marriages will be broken by court action. This assails the foundation of life — the human family. It does not take into account additional marriages which, "for the sake of the children," remain comatose, feigning death.

The Pill is abused. This boon to the small family has become the hydrogen bomb of the single girl. Magazines detail the wonders of having an "affair." Single girls who are disinclined to surrender to a man on the first three dates are not asked for a fourth.

The boy who does not demand sex is a square. At movies, girls laugh at depraved acts and cheer the bad guys. The "knight on a white horse" is jeered as grandma's pet fantasist.

Women's Lib, in its sexual aspect, has become a free pass for the rapist. In Great Britain, the courts now maintain that no matter how hard a woman struggles, or how loud her shrieks for help, the man is entitled to believe she means yes.

Licentiousness always breeds contempt. Last month, Marji Kunz of the Knight Newspapers wrote a story for the women's pages which detailed the wonders of infidelity. Miss Kunz told about a tennis pro whom she identifies only as "Buzz."

"At the moment," Miss Kunz wrote, "he is sexually involved with six married women. And that's not counting his wife or the woman he was tutoring later on the day we talked. She's a sharp chick, but I'm in no hurry," he said. "I already have a lot of action going."

One of the headlines stated: "Husband Is Last to Know." A psychiatrist, Jean Rosenbaum, is quoted as saying: "The most frequent complaint he hears from women is that the American man, in many ways, is a frigid person. Since the birth of the control pill and the women's movement, he is finding a lot of cases where males are unaffectionate and unresponsive."

One man came to Dr. Rosenbaum for treatment, he says, because his wife achieved orgasm. "It frightened him. What we have here is not the historic case of a man who is looking for sex outside marriage. He can't handle what he has at home."

I find it difficult to believe Dr. Rosenbaum, whoever he may be. Any husband who suddenly discovers that his wife is an active partner in love is going to take her to dinner and buy a corsage.

The drive to emasculate the male is engineered by lib militants, lesbians and psychologists who counsel confused females who would not require treatment unless they felt they had wronged themselves as well as a man.

I do not favor the supine woman of old. My grandmothers were raised in ignorance and died naive. That's wrong. Knowledge is a righteous weapon. The question simmers down to the difference between use and abuse.

In the post-flapper era, we had a lot of sex going for us. It was, I assure you, not a virginal decade. Boys lied a lot about how easy certain girls were. It was Mastodon Age Machismo.

We were sexual hypocrites. There were girls you had fun with. And there were girls you married. The good girls were, underneath, no more moral than their freebie sisters, but the good ones stood high on a pedestal and wouldn't come down.

Today the college boy who doesn't "shack up" with a girl is suspected of latent homosexuality. The budding female becomes cheaper and cheaper. At some vague time in the future, women may become the perfect aggressors, chasing men to feel their muscles and find a stud.

Then the men will become asexual. The culture of the human family, with its parallels of mutual respect and mutual joy, will die . . .

Iowa Corn Crop Facing Disaster

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Farmers in Iowa need a good, soaking rain within a few days or they will risk losing up to 650 million bushels of corn, state Secretary of Agriculture Robert Lounsberry says.

At current market prices averaging about $2.85 a bushel for Iowa corn, the potential loss to farmers could be in excess of $1.8 billion.

"If it doesn't come this week, we'll be hurt more than we'd like to admit," Lounsberry said Monday. "The drought conditions might cut yield 30 to 50 bushels per acre."

Iowa produces about 20 per cent of the nation's corn crop and in a good year will harvest more than 1.2 billion bushels. The forecast for this year had been 109 bushels an acre.

The National Corn Growers Association says it is surveying the crop nationwide and it will be next week before it knows the situation elsewhere. Lounsberry says the weather has been good in Indiana and Illinois, which follow Iowa in corn production.

Until now, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has estimated that U.S. farmers will produce a record wheat and corn crop this year that will meet domestic and export demands without seriously affecting American consumer prices.

The National Weather Service forecasts mostly sunny and hot weather for Iowa the next few days, with temperatures expected to top 100 degrees today.

Iowa's corn and soybean crops are suffering from a combination of excessive heat and insufficient moisture, the Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Monday.

"To recover, we would have to have a good inch of rain spread out over a 12 to 24 hour period," Lounsberry said.

Up to an inch of rain fell in scattered Iowa locations last week, but the varied rainfall brought only temporary relief.

Last year, a combination of early flooding followed by a severe drought and an early frost cut the average yield to 81 bushels an acre.

Lounsberry said the corn crop is now in the critical pollination stage which, without rain soon, could result in the corn "producing cobs with no corn on them."

Trouble for the Iowa corn crop came about a month after heavy rains dealt a serious blow to crops in the fertile Red River Valley area of western Minnesota and eastern North Dakota.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration has issued a preliminary estimate that flooding brought crop damage of $1.5 billion in the two-state area, including carryover damage to 1976 production.

The primary crops affected in the Red River Valley were potatoes, sugar beets, sunflowers, barley, wheat and flax.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Board of Regents has been awarded a $845,160 federal grant to provide state student incentive grants to an estimated 3,382 students during the 1975-76 academic year.

The funds must be matched by the state, the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare said. The maximum that can go to a fulltime student is $1,500 per year.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My daughter has unusually painful menstrual periods. Besides the ordinary pills, is there anything else that can be done to relieve her of these pains?

Mrs. G. L., Ind.

Painful menstrual periods (dysmenorrhea) are physically and emotionally devastating to adolescents and adults. Besides the pain that occurs at the time of menstruation, there is also the anticipation of the constant recurring cycle of pain. This can become a severe psychological burden.

A number of physical exercises have been tried, with great success. Dr. Leib J. Golub, of the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, devised a series of exercises that brought immeasurable comfort to girls who were in distress during the menstrual period.

The exercise was described in this way: "In a standing position, with the arms raised sideward at shoulder height, the trunk is turned to one side. The knees are kept straight while the girl, twisting and bending her trunk, touches her foot with the opposite hand."

"An attempt, too, is made to reach around the outer side of the foot and touch the heel."

The exercise is repeated four times. This is slowly increased to about ten times. The entire cycle of exercise can be done three or four times a day.

These uncomplicated exercises have reduced the pain and brought relief from uncomplicated dysmenorrhea.

This program should be tried only after a thorough medical examination rules out any physical reason for the unusual pain.

I am sure that the ringing in my ears is due to trouble in my teeth. If this is possible I would gladly have all my teeth taken out. I am 54.

Mr. T. N. O., Tenn.

Dear Mr. O.:

Before embarking on such irreversible dental surgery you must, of course, seek the combined advice of your doctor and your dentist.

Ringing noises, or "tinnitus," can be very distressing. Far too often, the exact cause is not established and patients consequently resort to methods of treatment that might be hazardous and valueless.

Your belief that your teeth are the basic reason for your problem is, at best, speculative. I doubt that there is any validity to this.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — After convincingly foretelling the end of the recession, at least as it is interpreted by the followers of statistics, the stock market seems to have succumbed to a case of nerves.

Isn't alone. The banking, investment, industrial and consumer segments of the economy are equally upset. Suddenly the future isn't as certain as they had thought.

Beginning last December the market took off on a 300-point advance in the Dow Jones industrial average, heralding the end of production declines several months later. Now it can't seem to see a few weeks ahead.

The immediate confusion arises from the direction of interest rates and inflation, both of which are headed in the wrong direction from a stock investor's viewpoint. Something may be very wrong, the market is saying.

Could it really be true that prices are rising again? And interest rates too? Just weeks after we thought the bottom of the recession had been reached — even before we could enjoy the upturn?

One month's statistics don't constitute a trend; the next month's figures could show it all to be an aberration. But nobody seems to be in the mood to ignore the recent upturn in prices and interest rates.

Chase Manhattan Bank recently summed up the concern in the lead article of its International Finance publication. "The recession is ending," it declared, adding with far less certainty: "What comes next?"

"The evidence points to an early renewal of economic growth," Chase states. "That much seems clear."

It continues, "it is a lot less clear how far beyond 1976 the recovery will continue. After such a severe recession, it should be possible to look to an extended period of growth."

"But there's legitimate concern that the recovery will be cut short by an early revival of serious inflation."

That, it seems, is the fear that is keeping consumers from spending, industry from making capital commitments, investors from declaring their faith in the immediate future of the stock market.

Sale Of Missiles To Jordan Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with congressional opposition, the Ford administration has deferred its proposed sale of 14 Hawk missile batteries to Jordan.

A number of legislators have criticized the proposed sale on the grounds the number of batteries is excessive and would tip the balance of power in the Middle East.

The Ford administration's deferral of its request for congressional approval, announced Monday, takes pressure off Congress which has 20 days in which it can veto proposed military sales to foreign governments. The period would have run out Wednesday, shortly before the legislators are set to begin an August recess.

A critic of the sale, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said he hopes the administration will use the extra time to go back to Jordan's King Hussein to make sure he is "taking into account the views of the committee regarding the 14 batteries."

There were conflicting accounts of whether the deferral meant the administration is ready to scale down the $350-million proposal, which already has been voted down by the House

International Relations Committee. Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the deferral came because his panel and the House committee had developed "overwhelming evidence" that the proposed sale is excessive.

"I hope that any new notice sent to the Congress after the August recess will reflect what I see as the overwhelming concern in Congress that the proposed sale to Jordan was larger than her requirements for purely defensive purposes," Case said. He also said the deferral "leaves the door open for a possible compromise."

But State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said the deferral was only a chance "for resubmitting the notification (of the sale) within a time framework which would permit Congress to deal with the issue." He said, "There is no change" in the numbers of missiles proposed.

The formal withdrawal came in a letter from Robert S. Ingersoll, acting secretary of state, who said the administration is prepared to extend the legal 20-day period as much as three times by withdrawing and then resubmitting its formal sales proposal.

Last evidence of the Washington Bakery, which stood on W. Main St., was destroyed when the oven, installed over 50 years before, was torn down. The oven, an old fashioned inside type, originally burned wood and coke, but later was adapted to gas. Nearly 15,000 bricks were used in the construction of the 10-foot by 12-foot structure.

The Ashville Mop Factory was incorporated under a board of Mrs. Blunden Johnson, Harry Rhoades, Dr. R. S. Hosler, Howell Evans and J. E. Courtwright, manager. The shop was begun by Henry Culp who made mops in a small shop bordering the alley and directly east of the village council house 50 years earlier.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My daughter has unusually painful menstrual periods. Besides the ordinary pills, is there anything else that can be done to relieve her of these pains?

Mrs. G. L., Ind.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Painful menstrual periods (dysmenorrhea) are physically and emotionally devastating to adolescents and adults. Besides the pain that occurs at the time of menstruation, there is also the anticipation of the constant recurring cycle of pain. This can become a severe psychological burden.

A number of physical exercises have been tried, with great success. Dr. Leib J. Golub, of the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, devised a series of exercises that brought immeasurable comfort to girls who were in distress during the menstrual period.

The exercise was described in this way: "In a standing position, with the arms raised sideward at shoulder height, the trunk is turned to one side. The knees are kept straight while the girl, twisting and bending her trunk, touches her foot with the opposite hand."

"An attempt, too, is made to reach around the outer side of the foot and

touch the heel."

The exercise is repeated four times. This is slowly increased to about ten times. The entire cycle of exercise can be done three or four times a day.

These uncomplicated exercises have reduced the pain and brought relief from uncomplicated dysmenorrhea.

This program should be tried only after a thorough medical examination rules out any physical reason for the unusual pain.

I am sure that the ringing in my ears is due to trouble in my teeth. If this is possible I would gladly have all my teeth taken out. I am 54.

Mr. T. N. O., Tenn.

Dear Mr. O.:

Before embarking on such irreversible dental surgery you must, of course, seek the combined advice of your doctor and your dentist.

Ringing noises, or "tinnitus," can be very distressing. Far too often, the exact cause is not established and patients consequently resort to methods of treatment that might be hazardous and valueless.

Your belief that your teeth are the basic reason for your problem is, at best, speculative. I doubt that there is any validity to this.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — After convincingly foretelling the end of the recession, at least as it is interpreted by the followers of statistics, the stock market seems to have succumbed to a case of nerves.

It isn't alone. The banking, investment, industrial and consumer segments of the economy are equally upset. Suddenly the future isn't as certain as they had thought.

Beginning last December the market took off on a 300-point advance in the Dow Jones industrial average, heralding the end of production declines several months later. Now it can't seem to see a few weeks ahead.

The immediate confusion arises from the direction of interest rates and inflation, both of which are headed in the wrong direction from a stock investor's viewpoint. Something may be very wrong, the market is saying.

Could it really be true that prices are rising again? And interest rates too? Just weeks after we thought the bottom of the recession had been reached — even before we could enjoy the upturn?

One month's statistics don't constitute a trend; the next month's figures could show it all to be an aberration. But nobody seems to be in the mood to ignore the recent upturn in prices and interest rates.

Chase Manhattan Bank recently summed up the concern in the lead article of its International Finance publication. "The recession is ending," it declared, adding with far less certainty: "What comes next?"

"The evidence points to an early renewal of economic growth," Chase states. "That much seems clear."

It continues, "It is a lot less clear how far beyond 1976 the recovery will continue. After such a severe recession, it should be possible to look to an extended period of growth."

"But there's legitimate concern that the recovery will be cut short by an early revival of serious inflation."

That, it seems, is the fear that is keeping consumers from spending, industry from making capital commitments, investors from declaring their faith in the immediate future of the stock market.

Sale Of Missiles To Jordan Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with congressional opposition, the Ford administration has deferred its proposed sale of 14 Hawk missile batteries to Jordan.

A number of legislators have criticized the proposed sale on the grounds the number of batteries is excessive and would tip the balance of power in the Middle East.

The Ford administration's deferral of its request for congressional approval, announced Monday, takes pressure off Congress which has 20 days in which it can veto proposed military sales to foreign governments. The period would have run out Wednesday, shortly before the legislators are set to begin an August recess.

A critic of the sale, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said he hopes the administration will use the extra time to go back to Jordan's King Hussein to make sure he is "taking into account the views of the committee regarding the 14 batteries."

There were conflicting accounts of whether the deferral meant the administration is ready to scale down the $350-million proposal, which already has been voted down by the House

International Relations Committee. Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the deferral came because his panel and the House committee had developed "overwhelming evidence" that the proposed sale is excessive.

"I hope that any new notice sent to the Congress after the August recess will reflect what I see as the overwhelming concern in Congress that the proposed sale to Jordan was larger than her requirements for purely defensive purposes," Case said. He also said the deferral "leaves the door open for a possible compromise."

But State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said the deferral was only a chance "for resubmitting the notification (of the sale) within a time framework which would permit Congress to deal with the issue." He said, "There is no change" in the numbers of missiles proposed.

The formal withdrawal came in a letter from Robert S. Ingersoll, acting secretary of state, who said the administration is prepared to extend the legal 20-day period as much as three times by withdrawing and then resubmitting its formal sales proposal.

Additional CETA Funds Made Available To County

By ANDREA PORTER
Journalism Intern

Greg Bigam, coordinator of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA), announced that additional funds for the program have been allotted to the county.

CETA is a federally funded program designed to reduce unemployment. The extended amount given to the county is $149,636.

Bigam explained that this amount will be used three ways. The most important is that it will create 11 new jobs for qualified persons.

To qualify for this program, the persons must be unemployed for 30 days, live in the county and be 18-years-old or over. Bigam said for the individual jobs, it might be helpful if the person had some training in the area.

The funds will also be used to extend 15 of the jobs originally created under the program. These jobs, which started in February, were to end in one year. Now they will continue until June, 30, 1976.

Three persons hired through Title II of CETA will also be extended until June 30, 1976. They are presently working in the Welfare Department.

Part of the funds have been used to extend the jobs of two Sheriff's Deputies who were originally hired under the Emergency Employment Act which has expired.

The new jobs created as a result of these funds are; one tax map draftsman, two tax map aids, one county maintenance person, two carpenter's aids, one carpenter's assistant, one welfare secretary, one sheriff clerical aid, one chamber of commerce secretary, and one soil and water field person.

The soil and water field person has

They achieve personal excellence in their chosen professions, homes, clubs and churches. They are the backbone of their communities and they deserve to be recognized for their achievements.

Pizza Hut Announces Record Sales

Pizza Hut, Inc. announced today record first quarter sales and earnings.

Net sales for the three months ended June 30 increased 42 per cent to $52,576,000 as compared to the restated three month period last year of $37,088,000.

Net income for the first three months of fiscal year 1976 rose 35 per cent to $3,276,000 as against a restated $2,435,000 for the same period last year.

Earnings per share for the three months ended June 30, 1975 increased 34 per cent to 47 cents a share based on 7,030,398 shares compared to a restated 35 cents based on 6,892,856 shares for the same period last year. The above earnings per share figures are adjusted for the three-for-two stock split effective July 21, 1975. Prior to the stock split earnings per share for the first quarter would have been 70 cents in fiscal 1976 and 53 cents in fiscal 1975.

Frank L. Carney, President & Board Chairman, stated, "Our basic plan involving productivity in existing units and additional new units remains intact. During the first quarter real sales growth averaged 6.5 per cent versus a negative 1.2 per cent in the last quarter of fiscal 1975. Our new unit expansion of 200 Company and 150 Franchise restaurants is on target."

As of June 30 there were 1,967 Pizza Hut restaurants in operation in the United States and 12 foreign countries, of which 1,044 were operated by the Company and the remainder were operated by franchisees.

Extend Deadline On Construction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The deadline for construction to begin on buildings with natural gas service in Mahoning, Trumbull and Columbiana counties has been extended by the Public Utilities Commission from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1.

The commission originally set the deadline in approving a request by the East Ohio Gas Co. that natural gas service be restricted.

The extension was sought by builders because a spring strike by construction workers delayed projects.

already been hired, but the other ten positions are open, Bigam said. The jobs can start any time after August 1.

If anyone is interested in employment in one of these areas and meets the qualifications, contact Greg Bigam at the courthouse.

Bigam said the commissioners appropriate the money, he accepts the applications, but the final hiring decision is made by the department where the person will be working.

The CETA program has not only created about 40 jobs in the county, it is also helping the county finish projects that nobody else has had time for, Bigam said.

It is also designed to train the hired people in skills that they may use when this job expires.

Murphy Income Increases

S. Warne Robinson, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of G. C. Murphy Company announced today that net income for the first six months of 1975 was $2,529,000, a 6.8 per cent increase over the $2,368,000 reported for the same period in 1974.

Net income per share for the 6-month period was 65 cents, compared with 61 cents for the first six months of 1974. Record sales for the period were $235,368,000, a 6.7 per cent increase over the 6-month figure of $220,495,000 reported a year ago.

For the quarter ending June 30, 1975, net income was $2,187,000 compared with $2,191,000 for the second quarter of 1974. Net income per share for the quarter was 56 cents the same as a year earlier. Sales for the second quarter were $129,113,000, a 4.3 per cent increase over the $123,809,000 reported for the second quarter of 1974.

Robinson noted that second quarter results were affected by an early Easter, which fell in the first quarter in 1975 and in the second quarter in 1974. This made quarterly comparisons difficult, he said, indicating that 6-months results are therefore more meaningful. Expanding on these results, he indicated that significantly higher utility costs have been partially offset by a reduction in interest costs during the first six months.

During the second quarter, $850,000 of the Company's debentures were repurchased to satisfy future sinking fund requirements. This transaction increased net income $94,000, or 02 cents per share, for the second quarter.

Seven Murphy's Marts will be opened in the last 6 months of 1975, making a total of 13 additional Murphy's Marts to be added during 1975.

Robinson indicated the first six months of 1975 have not been easy for firms engaged in retailing. However, if the economic recovery predicted by most economists materializes, particularly the fourth quarter, 1975 will be a good year for the G. C. Murphy Company.

Columbia Gas Seeks To Amend Large-User Curtailment Plan

Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., today asked the Ohio Public Utilities Commission for permission to amend its present curtailment plan for industrial and large commercial customers. The amended plan could result in 100 per cent curtailment of natural gas used to fuel large industrial boilers beginning Nov. 1.

Columbia Gas President M. E. White, Columbus, said the action is being taken because the level of industrial curtailment expected this winter is so severe that pro-rata (equal percentage) curtailment alone is no longer feasible and the company feels it is necessary to conserve available supplies of natural gas for critical uses, such as feedstock, maintenance gas and processing applications that cannot use an alternate fuel.

Under the amended plan, Columbia Gas of Ohio, beginning Nov. 1, 1975, will first curtail all industrial boiler load of over one million cubic feet in any one month by 100 per cent before any other usage is curtailed. Additional curtailment required would be on a pro-rata basis of other industrial and large commercial deliveries.

Beginning Nov. 1, 1976, all industrial customers using more than one million cubic feet of gas in any given month who could use an alternate fuel will be curtailed up to 100 per cent immediately after 100 per cent curtailment of all boiler fuel loads and before any other customers are curtailed on a pro-rata basis.

Under Columbia Gas of Ohio's present plan, now in effect on an interim basis through July 28 by order of the Public Utilities Commission, 1,380 industrial customers and 1,560 commercial customers who use more than one million cubic feet of gas in any given month are curtailed on a pro-rata basis to offset an existing shortfall in supply and to protect supplies to residential and human needs customers. Curtailment to commercial customers, however, is limited to a maximum of 40 per cent in the winter months (November through March) and to 15 per cent the rest of the year (April through October).

The present basic plan is changed only for those industrial customers whose boiler load exceeds one million cubic feet per month, or those whose load exceeds one million cubic feet per month and who could use an alternate fuel. Other industrial and large commercial customers for the time being will continue to be curtailed on the same pro-rata basis as in the present interim order.

The amended plan would continue enforcement by monetary penalties of $10 per thousand cubic feet and-or interruption of service for failure to comply with authorized volumes.

White said that the company has not proposed to impose mandatory allocations, curtailments or monetary penalties upon residential or domestic use customers, or upon industrial and commercial customers that use less than one million cubic feet of gas a month.

"This is not to say, however, that such restrictions may not have to be imposed if these customers do not make a further contribution toward helping to ease the supply situation by setting thermostats lower in their homes and offices during the heating season and taking other conservation measures," he added.

He said the company will continue to monitor gas consumption weekly and adjust current curtailment levels, depending on temperatures experienced in the gas company's service area, the amount of gas conserved by customers and possible further changes in the overall gas supply picture.

Columbia Gas Seeks To Amend Large-User Curtailment Plan

Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., today asked the Ohio Public Utilities Commission for permission to amend its present curtailment plan for industrial and large commercial customers. The amended plan could result in 100 per cent curtailment of natural gas used to fuel large industrial boilers beginning Nov. 1.

Columbia Gas President M. E. White, Columbus, said the action is being taken because the level of industrial curtailment expected this winter is so severe that pro-rata (equal percentage) curtailment alone is no longer feasible and the company feels it is necessary to conserve available supplies of natural gas for critical uses, such as feedstock, maintenance gas and processing applications that cannot use an alternate fuel.

Under the amended plan, Columbia Gas of Ohio, beginning Nov. 1, 1975, will first curtail all industrial boiler load of over one million cubic feet in any one month by 100 per cent before any other usage is curtailed. Additional curtailment required would be on a pro-rata basis of other industrial and large commercial deliveries.

Beginning Nov. 1, 1976, all industrial customers using more than one million cubic feet of gas in any given month who could use an alternate fuel will be curtailed up to 100 per cent immediately after 100 per cent curtailment of all boiler fuel loads and before any other customers are curtailed on a pro-rata basis.

Under Columbia Gas of Ohio's present plan, now in effect on an interim basis through July 28 by order of the Public Utilities Commission, 1,380 industrial customers and 1,560 commercial customers who use more than one million cubic feet of gas in any given month are curtailed on a pro-rata basis to offset an existing shortfall in supply and to protect supplies to residential and human needs customers. Curtailment to commercial customers, however, is limited to a maximum of 40 per cent in the winter months (November through March) and to 15 per cent the rest of the year (April through October).

The present basic plan is changed only for those industrial customers whose boiler load exceeds one million cubic feet per month, or those whose load exceeds one million cubic feet per month and who could use an alternate fuel. Other industrial and large commercial customers for the time being will continue to be curtailed on the same pro-rata basis as in the present interim order.

The amended plan would continue enforcement by monetary penalties of $10 per thousand cubic feet and-or interruption of service for failure to comply with authorized volumes.

White said that the company has not proposed to impose mandatory allocations, curtailments or monetary penalties upon residential or domestic use customers, or upon industrial and commercial customers that use less than one million cubic feet of gas a month.

"This is not to say, however, that such restrictions may not have to be imposed if these customers do not make a further contribution toward helping to ease the supply situation by setting thermostats lower in their homes and offices during the heating season and taking other conservation measures," he added.

He said the company will continue to monitor gas consumption weekly and adjust current curtailment levels, depending on temperatures experienced in the gas company's service area, the amount of gas conserved by customers and possible further changes in the overall gas supply picture.

Air Routes Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board says it is reopening its investigation into whether additional competitive nonstop service is needed between Atlanta and three other cities — Detroit, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Delta Airlines currently is the only carrier able to offer nonstop service on the Atlanta-Detroit and Atlanta-Cincinnati routes. United Airlines is the only carrier with nonstop Atlanta-

Cleveland service.

The board cancelled its investigation into whether more nonstop service was needed in those markets last year because of the fuel shortage. The board said at that time it did not feel it should be adding new service to routes when fuel was in short supply.

The CAB said Tuesday it had decided to reopen the case because the fuel shortage had since eased.

Hamilton County Eligible For Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Small Business Administration district office here announced Tuesday that Hamilton County has been declared a disaster area because of flash flooding June 26 in parts of Evendale and Sharonville townships.

The declaration enables homeowners, businesses and nonprofit organizations to qualify for low-cost, long-term SBA loans for uninsured losses.

Steel Output Shows Drop

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel production declined 1.1 per cent last week bringing year-to-date production more than 16 per cent below last year, the American Iron & Steel Institute reported Monday.

Production was 1.94 million tons against 1.96 million tons the previous week. The weekly index of production, with 100 equalling the 1967 weekly average, fell to 79.6 from 80.5 the week before.

Through July 26, steel companies poured 70.86 million tons of steel, 16.3 per cent less than the 84.61 million tons poured in the same period of 1974. The production index was 98.2 against 117.3 in 1974.

Last week's production indexes by district were: Northeast Coast 72; Buffalo 37; Pittsburgh 79; Youngstown 64; Cleveland 98; Detroit 89; Chicago 75; Cincinnati 94; St. Louis 77; Southern 127 and Western 88.

Pickin', Singin' Set At Festival

OTTAWA, Ohio (AP) — Three days of pickin' and singin' are on tap Aug. 1-3 at the fifth annual Ohio National Bluegrass Festival at Hillbrook recreation facilities.

Some 20 bands will present different styles of the traditional music over the three days, headlined by Country Music Hall of Fame member Bill Monroe with the Bluegrass Boys.

Those in the party were Danny Paxton, Joel Wright, Karen and Janet Large, Mike and Thad Beavers, Sonie, Kim and Ronnie Large, Tanya and Todd Snyder, Tammy, Cheryl, Becky and Debbie Moss and Matt Large.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knisley and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lex Carper spent several days last week at Myrtle Beach, S.C. This was Carper's first trip to the ocean.

Last Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hinton of near Hallsville, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hinton Jr. of Lancaster and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Perry McClasky of Columbus, celebrated their wedding anniversaries with dinner and the evening at the Country Dinner Playhouse. The elder Hintons have been married for 45 years; their son and his wife, 24; and for Perry and Susie Hinton McClasky, it was number one.

Housing Survey Under Way

About 400 housing units in the Columbus, Ohio metropolitan area will be visited this month by Bureau of the Census interviewers, according to Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit.

The survey began in April. Each month some 400 different housing units are visited, and when it is completed in March, 1976, a total of 5,000 housing units will have been canvassed.

Columbus, Ohio is one of the 21 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's) in this year's survey. The Census Bureau and the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) planned the survey jointly. It is being conducted in response to a need for frequent and up-to-date data on housing, considered one of the indicators of the Nation's economic condition.

Joint HUD-Census reports will be issued about nine months after completion of the interviews. For SMSA's for which a 15,000 unit sample was collected, data will be shown for the total SMSA as well as for the central city or cities and the area outside. For SMSA's with the smaller sample, data will be shown only for the SMSA as a whole.

All information obtained by the Census Bureau is confidential by law and can be used only to compile statistical totals in which no person, household, or housing unit can be identified.

Interviewers are local residents, locally trained for the work. Each carries an official identification card with the bearer's photograph and signature.

Interviewers and their areas are:

Janet L. Buck, Cynthia E. Garvin, Patricia Hagans, Beth A. Laurent, Joanne Miller, Marilyn D. Sheridan, Carol C. Shoemaker, Noreen Williams, Anna Marie Freeman. The SMSA consists of Delaware, Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hinton Sr.

Saturday evening, Mrs. Miriam Courtwright entertained her co-workers, lab personnel at the Ross County Medical Center, at a cook-out at her home. They were joined later in the evening by the cast of the out-door drama, "Tecumseh".

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Roll and grandson, Aaron Courtwright were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chester at their home in Columbus.

Mrs. Grayce Francis, Miss Joann Francis, Miss Barbara Francis and Park and Kent Francis enjoyed a week at Myrtle Beach and then went to Clemson, S.C. where they spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Reisinger.

Mrs. Lucille Moore spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Everett McCormick in Amanda and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Martin in Pleasantville.

Karl and Kurt Hartman left Monday for Canton to spend a few days with their maternal grandparents and other relatives before starting back across the United States to Seattle and then north to their new home in Anchorage, Alaska.

Karl, aged 19, and Kurt, 16, spent five days here with their grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Hartman, having traveled cross country by bus and one stop was at Disneyland in Los Angeles.

They are sons of the Reverend and Mrs. Donald Hartman and have been living in Sitka with their parents until their transfer to Anchorage just recently. Reverend Hartman is a Methodist minister and has been in Alaska for the past ten years. Karl will enter the University of Alaska this fall and his brother will continue in high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Moss and Jared have returned to their home in Jefferson, Md. after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moss Sr. His parents were informed that he has entered Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for tests and observation. He suffered a heart attack several months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meadows gave a picnic Sunday evening for 1969 Past Matron's and Past Patron's of District 23. Among their guests were Mrs. Meadows' mother, Mrs. Alice Fellenstein, of Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thornburg, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moats and Arita, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Giebelhouse, of Washington, C.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurtt and Nancy, Mrs. Thelma Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cline, Steve and Charles, Jeffersonville; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, Circleville.

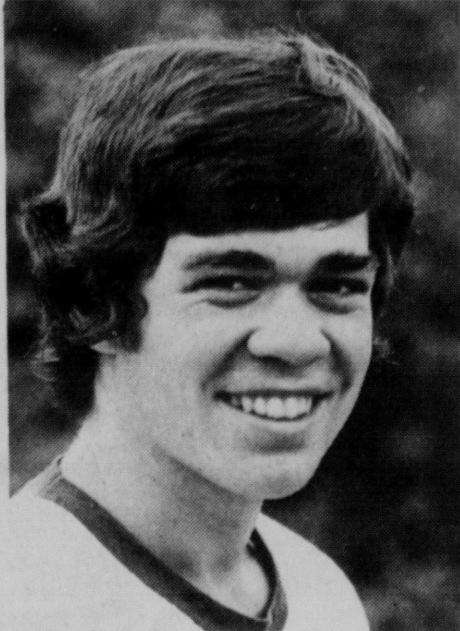

Additional evening callers were Donald Kempton and his sister, Mrs. William Minshall who had been visiting their mother at University Hospital.

Mrs. Sherman Edler spent last week at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Noland in Franklin, Tenn. She traveled with her brother, William Meadows who was making a business trip in southern states.

Harvey Large entered Mt. Carmel Hospital (East) on Saturday for X-rays and other tests. He sustained injuries while helping to load livestock for a local farmer earlier in the week.

Man Sentenced For Robbery

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Homer T. Thompson, 24, was sentenced Tuesday to 5 to 25 years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute for aggravated robbery of a Lorain food market.

Thompson, found guilty of the charge late Monday in Lorain County Common Pleas Court, was acquitted of similar charges involving incidents at a drug store and a restaurant.

He is to serve his new sentence consecutive to those assessed earlier on his conviction of burglary and a narcotics violation.

Recession Saving Landmarks

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Writer

The nation's economic ills are improving the prognosis of some of America's urban landmarks suffering from acute cases of downtown redevelopment.

Authorities say recession and inflation have eased the demolition fever that leveled many structures of architectural or historical significance in the postwar construction boom. Preservationists are using the breathing spell to perfect techniques that could give the remaining buildings new leases on life.

"Very often the most historic area of a town is the most rundown," said Mary Smith of the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Washington.

In the past, she said, developers found it more profitable to raze aging structures than to salvage them.

Jury Trial Cancelled, Man Guilty

A jury trial scheduled in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Tuesday was cancelled when the defendant pleaded guilty to a lesser charge.

Elmer Elliott Hill, Columbus, had pleaded not guilty to the charge of robbery and had requested a trial by jury.

The trial was called off when Hill pleaded guilty to petit theft. Judge William Ammer sentenced him to spend six months in the Pickaway County Jail and gave him credit for the time he has already spent there in this case.

Appearing on behalf of the State of Ohio during Tuesday's proceedings was acting prosecutor Stephen Gussler.

Also on the mid-week docket was Lloyd Jasper Norris, Indiana, charged with passing a bad check at Christopher's Don Boutique. Norris, appearing as his own defense, pleaded guilty to the offense but offered that alcoholism was the prime reason for his criminal behavior.

Gussler advised the court that Norris had an extensive previous record and had served penal sentences in various states.

Judge Ammer sentenced him to a term of 18 months to five years at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Woman Resigns, Protests Smoke

SOUTH AMHERST, Ohio (AP)—The one-time head of this village council's environmental committee says she has had enough of smoky air.

"I've sat through so many smoke-filled meetings that I don't think I could stand another one," Gladys Reavor said in resigning her council seat.

"I think now we are sort of realizing that this whole idea of demolition and reconstruction is not the best way to go," Mrs. Smith said. "That's because now with new construction costs so very high it has made rehabilitation efforts so very much more feasible."

Paul Sprague, a Chicago architectural historian and past president of the Illinois Historical Structures Survey, said that there are perhaps 100 landmark commercial structures in urban cores living in the shadow of the wrecking ball.

The best hope of saving the structures, he said, is in making them worth saving from the economic standpoint, generally by continuing to use them for the purpose for which they were designed.

"It's very difficult to adapt them for uses which require larger spaces, higher floor levels and things like that," he said. "I think realistically you have to really consider keeping them in some sort of business use."

In August, planners, developers, contractors, municipal officials and preservationists from around the country meet in Seattle — the site of a showcase, 20-block, rehabilitation district called Pioneer Square — to discuss the economic benefits of preserving important buildings.

Among the likely topics of conversation is the successful rescue of a St. Louis structure, the nine-story Wainwright Building. Designed in the early 1890s by Chicago architect Louis Sullivan, the Wainwright is generally considered the precursor of the modern skyscraper.

Sullivan solved the problem of giving a building a sense of unity when it is taller than it is wide, Sprague said. Using decorative masonry grids and piers, Sprague said, "He lets your eye ride up each side of the building. These are devices which tie the building together. In that building he shows how to do it."

The area around the Wainwright became blighted and the building's existence looked precarious. In 1974, however, the trust for historic preservation obtained an option to buy the building and early this year transferred it to the state government.

Missouri plans to renovate the Wainwright for use as the centerpiece of a proposed complex, which will include new buildings.

The trial was called off when Hill pleaded guilty to petit theft. Judge William Ammer sentenced him to spend six months in the Pickaway County Jail and gave him credit for the time he has already spent there in this case.

Appearing on behalf of the State of Ohio during Tuesday's proceedings was acting prosecutor Stephen Gussler.

Also on the mid-week docket was Lloyd Jasper Norris, Indiana, charged with passing a bad check at Christopher's Don Boutique. Norris, appearing as his own defense, pleaded guilty to the offense but offered that alcoholism was the prime reason for his criminal behavior.

Gussler advised the court that Norris had an extensive previous record and had served penal sentences in various states.

Judge Ammer sentenced him to a term of 18 months to five years at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Woman Resigns, Protests Smoke

SOUTH AMHERST, Ohio (AP)—The one-time head of this village council's environmental committee says she has had enough of smoky air.

"I've sat through so many smoke-filled meetings that I don't think I could stand another one," Gladys Reavor said in resigning her council seat.

"I think now we are sort of realizing that this whole idea of demolition and reconstruction is not the best way to go," Mrs. Smith said. "That's because now with new construction costs so very high it has made rehabilitation efforts so very much more feasible."

Paul Sprague, a Chicago architectural historian and past president of the Illinois Historical Structures Survey, said that there are perhaps 100 landmark commercial structures in urban cores living in the shadow of the wrecking ball.

The best hope of saving the structures, he said, is in making them worth saving from the economic standpoint, generally by continuing to use them for the purpose for which they were designed.

"It's very difficult to adapt them for uses which require larger spaces, higher floor levels and things like that," he said. "I think realistically you have to really consider keeping them in some sort of business use."

In August, planners, developers, contractors, municipal officials and preservationists from around the country meet in Seattle — the site of a showcase, 20-block, rehabilitation district called Pioneer Square — to discuss the economic benefits of preserving important buildings.

Among the likely topics of conversation is the successful rescue of a St. Louis structure, the nine-story Wainwright Building. Designed in the early 1890s by Chicago architect Louis Sullivan, the Wainwright is generally considered the precursor of the modern skyscraper.

Sullivan solved the problem of giving a building a sense of unity when it is taller than it is wide, Sprague said. Using decorative masonry grids and piers, Sprague said, "He lets your eye ride up each side of the building. These are devices which tie the building together. In that building he shows how to do it."

The area around the Wainwright became blighted and the building's existence looked precarious. In 1974, however, the trust for historic preservation obtained an option to buy the building and early this year transferred it to the state government.

Missouri plans to renovate the Wainwright for use as the centerpiece of a proposed complex, which will include new buildings.

Farm Exports Bring Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm exports rose last fiscal year to a record $21.6 billion and produced a U.S. trade surplus, says the Agriculture Department.

The exports exceeded agricultural imports by $12 billion during the year ended June 30, officials said. That more than offset a non-agricultural trade deficit and left the United States with a $2.2 billion surplus.

In 1973-74 farm exports were worth $21.3 billion, the department said Tuesday. Prices of farm commodities were up sharply last fiscal year, which raised the total value, but actual quantities shipped declined.

About 85 million metric tons of farm products were exported last season, down from a record 100 million the year before, the department said.

Hefner Denies Closing Mansion

CHICAGO (AP) — Hugh Hefner says he is not disposing of his 74-room Playboy mansion here, but is instead "reducing it rather dramatically."

The president of Playboy Enterprises, Inc., thus contradicted Tuesday night his senior vice president, Victor Lowmes, who had announced that the lavish mansion is being closed and that Hefner's DC9 jet is being put up for sale.

Contacted at his Los Angeles mansion, Hefner said, "We're not closing down the Chicago mansion, but reducing it rather dramatically. It will still be a base of operations. We will still have it with a skeleton staff when I'm here."

BEST OF SHOW—Mrs. Marie Gibson, chairman of Monday's Flower Show at the Pickaway County Fair, studies the Best of Show entry of Mrs. Martha Huston.

Legislators To Meet On Malpractice

OKOBOJI, Iowa (AP) — State legislators from 12 Midwestern states will attempt to find a common solution to the medical malpractice problem in a four-day meeting starting Sunday at Okoboji.

"For one thing we want to check and see if there are some games being played by the insurance industry," said Sen. Lowell Junkins, D-Montrose, chairman of the subcommittee working on medical malpractice.

That group will spend much of its time at the annual meeting of the Council of State Governments comparing notes on malpractice hearings and actions by the various states.

"At a malpractice conference in Chicago, we stumbled on something that seemed peculiar," Junkins said. "We found that some insurance companies are pulling out of the malpractice business in say Iowa, South Dakota and Missouri and are suddenly writing it heavily in other states."

"One company that kind of saved the state of Iowa by increasing the amount of malpractice insurance it is writing here has stopped writing medical malpractice insurance in Indiana — and it's an Indiana-based company," he continued.

Doctors in many states are finding it difficult to renew or expand the malpractice insurance and those who are successful are finding the costs spiraling.

"Initially we hope to get a handle on what is and what is not happening," Junkins said. "The major question is why they are writing in one state and not another."

The subcommittee has been coordinating results of malpractice insurance hearings and meetings in the 12 states through the organization's Chicago office.

In the subcommittee meeting Sunday, Junkins said the group would attempt to coordinate further and decide how to handle the situation. He said other meetings are expected to work on the problem during the four-day meeting.

"We're trying to coordinate each state's efforts so we don't each hold hearings and have people come in and we have to take what they say as gospel. We will have some check to see if in fact it is gospel.

"So far, the only thing we can put our finger on is we seem to be getting different songs, or at least different words to the same tune, from the companies," Junkins said.

He said the subcommittee hopes the states can work together as a region to work out solutions, including possible model legislation that would be adopted by all 12 states.

In addition to Iowa, the states participating are Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio.

Friends Nab 2 Suspects

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Billy Bigsby, 19, of Cleveland owes his freedom to four friends who captured two men who sold Bigsby a stolen car.

Police said Bigsby bought a 1970 Cadillac Monday for $150 from two men from Wisconsin. The youth was picked up Tuesday while riding in the car when police noticed the car fit the description of a car stolen in Milwaukee, Wis.

While being questioned by police, Bigsby said he told of his plight to Tony Fuller, 18, and Louis Johnson, 17, both of Cleveland.

The two youths, along with two 18-year-old friends, found the men who sold the car to Bigsby in an apartment here. Fuller said they blocked escape to the apartment and tied the two men, ages 26 and 21, with extension cords. They then called police.

Police said one man captured by the youths was wanted for forgery and the other for bank robbery in Wisconsin. They were taken to jail while Bigsby celebrated his exoneration with his friends.

BOOK PRESENTATION—The Circleville Chapter of DeMolay was recently given copies of "Dynamic Freedoms" to be presented to all local high school libraries. The book was compiled by Robert Watts, 33, Grand Commander of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the USA. The presentation was made possible by the Scottish Rite organization. It consists of four sections: Our Freedom Documents; Communism—Enemy of all Freedoms; Separation of Church and State; and Free Enterprise, An American Invention. Shown are Jerry Yeatts, left, Master Counselor of the local DeMolay chapter and Paul Dunkle, advisor to the group.

Rhodes Tells Of Campus Unrest

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said Tuesday it "was almost a state of war" five years ago when he pledged to use every force of law to prevent property destruction by demonstrators protesting U.S. military activities in Southeast Asia. But the governor denied he said anything at a news conference a day before the 1970 Kent State shootings could be interpreted as instructions giving Ohio National Guardsmen the right to use unreasonable force to keep the peace.

"I gave no orders to anyone concerning military operations in the state of Ohio," he said.

That claim was challenged as soon as Rhodes left the stand by a former Guard sergeant who said the governor told at least three Guard officers and area law enforcement officials to use any force necessary to disperse student gatherings.

Michael W. Delaney, 34, of Washington, D.C., said he was a Guard public relations man when he attended the closed-door session in which the governor also said he was taking command of the situation in Kent and told university officials to stay out of campus security matters.

Delaney, now a public relations executive, said when the governor was asked about the legality of the proposed student dispersals, Rhodes said he would issue a proclamation on his return to Columbus to cover the Guard's expanded role.

During his testimony Tuesday morning, Rhodes specifically denied making the statements.

Some 26 hours later, May 4, 1970, more than 100 guardsmen set out across the campus Commons to break up a nighttime antiwar rally. Within 20 minutes four students had been shot to death and nine others wounded.

The testimony Tuesday came in the $46 million damages action filed by the victims and their families against Rhodes and 40 other present or former state officials and guardsmen.

The governor had ordered the Guard to Kent after rioting downtown Friday night and burning of the campus Reserve Officers Training Corps building Saturday night. The shooting came on Monday.

A tape recording of the news conference, retrieved last week from the Kent State archives, was placed in evidence Tuesday.

Rhodes sat in the witness chair with head bowed as he listened to his voice five years ago charge that a small band of agitators moved from campus to campus organizing demonstrations. He heard himself call them "worse than the Brown Shirts, the Communist element, and night riders and vigilantes."

Brown Shirts was a 1930s term used to describe Fascist thugs.

Rhodes warned at the news conference that continued "permissive consent" by authorities could mean destruction of higher education in the state. But he added, "We are just as stern for peaceful dissent and ordinary protest...."

House Passes Ohio Adoption Law Reforms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — By a vote of 91-0, the House approved and sent the Senate Tuesday a bill making major reforms in Ohio's adoption laws.

The chief sponsor, Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights, said if enacted, the legislation would halt the practice of selling babies through unscrupulous attorneys and others.

Lehman, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, explained that the bill requires probate court approval of any fees charged in the placement of a child.

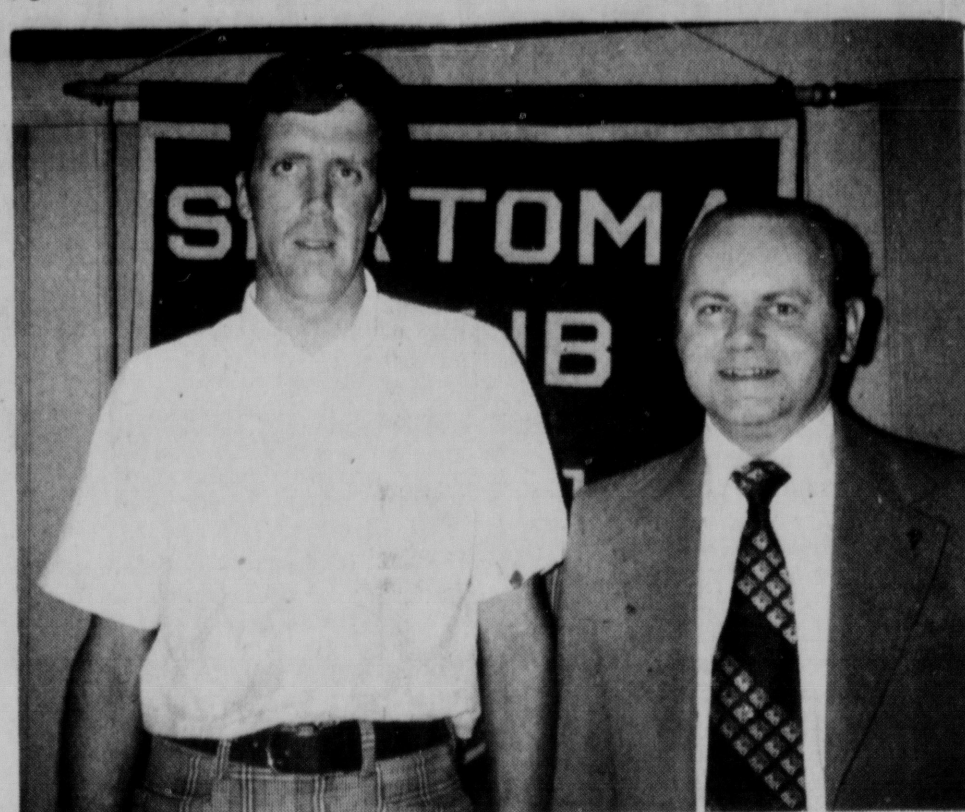

"That takes the profit out of private placement," he said.

Another major change involves the adoption of children born in foreign countries. Lehman said it cuts through red tape on the welfare department and permits placement so long as the child has been processed by U.S. immigration officials.

Additionally, the measure requires that all adoptions, including those privately arranged, be approved by the probate court and handled either by a private or public adoption agency.

Lehman said the measure, which he termed "the first major reform in Ohio's adoption laws in many years," also requires annual reviews of the cases of all children in foster homes and custodial institutions, to see to their proper care and that efforts are being made to have them adopted.

It also brings Ohio statutes into conformity with recent U.S. Supreme Court decision, and requires all adoptions in Ohio to be preceded by an investigation of the child's proposed new home.

SERTOMA GUEST—Bob Parker, left, president of the Sertoma Club, introduced Tuesday's guest speaker to the group. Speaker Ron Smith, Lancaster, is the District Governor of Sertoma and spoke to the local club on the goals of Sertoma. The national theme of the club is speech and hearing. A research center was opened recently in Birmingham, Ala. through the efforts of Sertoma. The group met at Wardell's Party Home for the meeting.

Senate OKs Jobless Pay Increases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate has voted 31-2 to raise the current $114 maximum weekly unemployment benefit payment to $150 for a recipient with three or more dependents.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe, Jr., D-89 New Boston, said the lower chamber would complete action on the expanded benefit package before the end of the week.

The legislation increases weekly payments for idled workers without dependents to $95 and provides $143 for those with two or more dependents. The current benefit schedule ranges from $77 to $114.

While raising ceilings, the Senate bill would lower the percentage of average weekly wage to 50 per cent in figuring benefits. Benefits are currently calculated at 55 per cent of average salary for workers with dependents.

The legislation also eliminates the one-week waiting period for benefits, provided the claimant is unemployed for three consecutive weeks. After that, he would receive the first week payment.

The bill includes an "innocent bystander" clause to make workers eligible for benefits when they are idled by strikes at an off-premises site operated by their employer. That provision was part of the Democrats "six-day war" package which was invalidated by a Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Stepbrother Dies Of Bat Beating

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 16-year-old Middletown youth has been charged with murder following the death of his stepbrother, who police said died from blows to the head with a baseball bat.

Dead was Marc Rothe, 16. The parents of the two youths were married two months ago.

Police said Jeff Sanders has been charged with murder.

The family had just returned from a lengthy vacation, police said.

Harness Races Begin With Tribute To Forrest Short

The 1975 County Fair Harness racing program was opened Tuesday with a tribute to Forrest Short, Pickaway County's grand old gentleman of harness racing.

Short lost his life in a tragic accident at Scioto Downs Friday. The tribute was given by Bob Steele, who is a close friend of Mr. Short and his family and the general manager and vice president of Scioto Downs. Mr. Short's daughters, Ann and Sarah and Mary Claire Wilson were present for the tribute.

There were 16 exciting heats of racing on the afternoon's card and because of the large field, posttime was advanced to 4 p.m. Racing was completed shortly before 8 p.m., just in time to allow the fair board members to set up the portable stage for the evening grandstand performance.

Winning both heats of the first race was Andrea, owned by George Osborn of Quaker City and driven by R. Dustina. The first trip was clocked in 2:07 3-5 and the second in 2:08 3-5.

A win ticket on Andrea in the first heat returned a whopping $82.40 payoff at the pari mutuel windows. She paid $13.20 to place and $14 to show. Second in the first heat was Mountain Callie, owned and driven by Jerry Roberts and third was Lady Physician, owned and driven by Dave Gammell. Mountain Callie paid $15.60 to place and $14 to show and Lady Physician paid $14 to show.

In the first trip Andrea led all the way, while in the second she led at the quarter, ran second to Young Excitement at the half and three-quarter but finished strong to beat Ray Barrett at the wire. Lady Physician was third in the second trip.

Because of a bit of confusion in the judge's stand and at the starting gate, the second heat of the first race was late getting on the track and no wagering was allowed.

Both heats of the second race were won by Tag On, owned by George E. Stump of Ashville and driven by Harry Shilling. He paced the first trip in 2:09.1 and came back in the second with a 2:09 time, leading almost all the way in both. Project Demon owned by Robert M. Johns of Wooster and driven by Thaddeus McCrear was second and Sunshine Princess was third. In the second heat of the race, Sunshine Princess was second and Norel was third.

The third race heats both went to Copy Belle, owned by Albert A. Savill with Bob Cain in the sulky. She was on top of the field all the way in both heats. Alwood Mark was second both times out, Smoking Arrow was third in the first trip and Denny W. Direct was third in the second.

The fourth race was won by John the Merchant, owned by Bob Radabaugh of Circleville and driven by Mike Neal, also of Circleville. He trotted a 2:10 mile the first time out and came back with a 2:09 effort, winning handily. Miss Ann Ros was second and F1 Fo third in the first heat while Darcell was second and Circle H, owned and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville was third in the second trip.

Ep John captured both heats of the fifth race. Owned by Fred Polk of Zanesville and driven by Jack Betts of Circleville, he trotted a 2:12.3 mile the first trip and a 2:11.1 the second.

Shady John followed Ep John under the wire in the first trip while Midge's Ideal was third. In the second, Johnny B. Rowdian was second and Midge's Ideal again third.

MS. owned by Beahan Stables of Altamonte Springs, Fla., and driven by Dick Williams won the first heat of the sixth race, the 2-year-old pace stake for a purse of $2,538.50. MS trailed Pearlite Chita at the quarter and half mile posts but made her move in the back stretch to take the lead at the three-quarter marked. She held that lead the rest of the way. If'n Ann finished second and B. G. Break third.

MS. was barred from wagering in the second trip of the stakes race, but was nosed in the wire by B. G. Break in an exciting finish. MS. was second in the field at the quarter pole, took the lead at the half and held it at the three-quarter mark. In the stretch, Russ Baldwin brought B. G. Break wide and did a masterful piece of driving to gain the win. MS. paced the first mile in 2:09.2 and B. G. Break was clocked in 2:09 in the second. If'n Ann was third in the second trip.

The seventh race winner was H M C, owned and driven by Giles Clayton with a time of 2:07.2 in the first trip and 2:06.3 in the second. A 2-year-old stake, the purse was $2,488.50. Second in the first heat was Meadow Dean F. and third Hillcrest Story. In second trip of the stake, Bobby Reef was second and Meadow Dean third.

The eighth race, the 3-year-old trot stake, was for the biggest purse of the day, $4,327.25, the winner's share went to Janellepe, owned by Carl Edwards and Harry Glancy of Cincinnati and driven by Joe Essig.

The 3-year-old mare went the first mile in 2:10 and her second in 2:10.2. The second place horse was G. Star June and third Plum in the first mile. In the second, Plum, owned by D. J. Anderson and Bryan Weaver of Circleville and driven by Weaver, made a valiant effort to catch Janellepe in the stretch, but finished second while May Pilot, owned by Ralph Stir Jr. of Ashville and driven by Paul Norris was third.

Attendance at the Tuesday afternoon program was estimated at 1,000 people by John Fissell, racing secretary. The pari mutuel handle was $9,358.

Posttime today is 4 p.m. There will be 10 heats of racing.

Phillies Defeat Pittsburgh, 5-1

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates aren't as tough as they look...at least the way the Philadelphia Phillies see them.

The Phillies have an uncanny hold on Pittsburgh and because of it, the Pirates are losing their grip in the National League East.

Behind rookie Tom Underwood, the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 5-1 Tuesday night for their ninth straight victory over the Pirates and climbed within 3½ games of the frontrunners. "Tonight's game is an important one," said Dave Cash. "It will mean the difference between leaving Pittsburgh 2½ or 4½ games behind."

The Pirates haven't beaten the Phillies since April 16, when they finished a threegame sweep of their Pennsylvania neighbors. Since then, it's been downright bizarre the way the Phillies have handled the Pirates.

In the other National League games, the San Francisco Giants turned back the Cincinnati Reds 4-2; the Atlanta Braves whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the Houston Astros

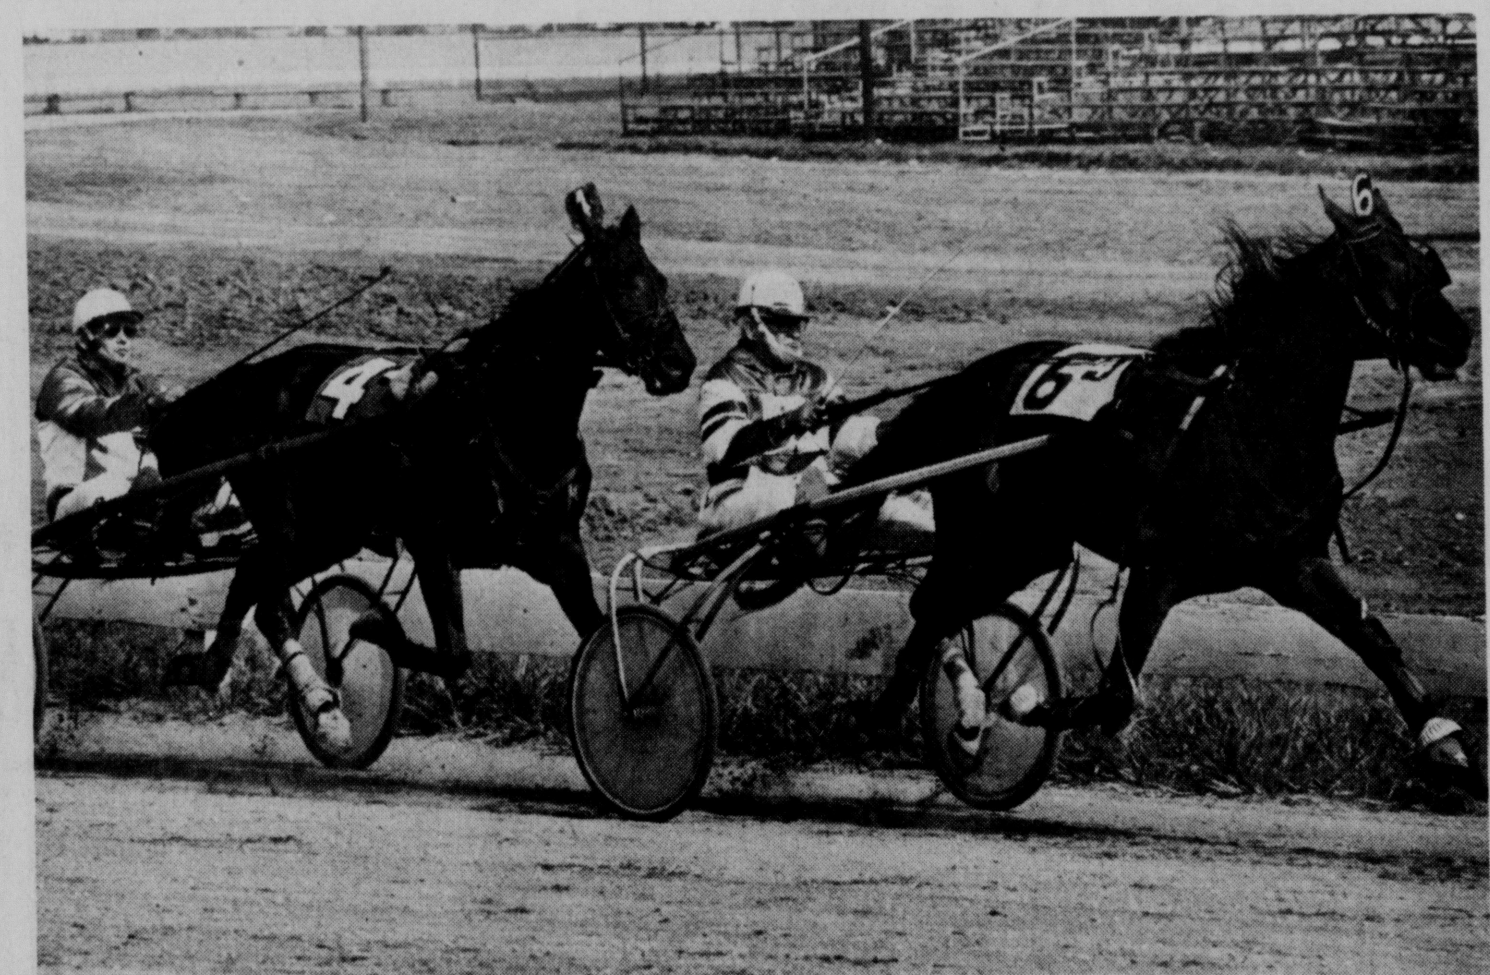

EARLY LEAD—Brian Weaver of Circleville reins Outburst in the second race of Tuesday's program at the Pickaway County Fair. Outburst finished fifth and seventh in the two heats while Tag On was the winner of both.

ON THE RAIL—Jim Arledge of Circleville has the rail position with Shoten The Dark going into the first turn in the third race. He finished ninth and eighth while Coffee Belle won both heats.

APPROACHING THE HALF—Porter Martin of Circleville holds the lead with Circle H approaching the halfway mark of the fourth race Tuesday. Circle H was sixth and third in the two heats of the second race, both of which were won by John The Merchant, owned by Bob Radabaugh and Driven by Mike Neal, both Circleville horsemen.

Pickaway County Cooks Display Talents

This year as in the past the cooks of Pickaway County have proved their abilities in culinary art at Pickaway County Fair. Regardless of shortages, high costs or rationing, women have found a way to show they not only enjoy eating good food but know how to prepare it and make it pleasing to the beholder.

Men have seldom invaded the Homemaking Department of the Fair and then usually in crafts. However with equal opportunities for each to do his or her own thing there may be more changes in the years to come. This year two men entered the candy and cookie divisions.

Anna Stone was named grand champion cake baker for 1975 and champions were Mrs. Jack Young, bread and yeast rolls, and Patty Gall for quick breads, Carol Welch for cookies, Anna Stone for one crust pie and Mrs. Henry Bartholomew for candy. She also won Grand Championship award in the candy division. In the Canned Foods Competition the champion was Martha Faulkner. Kerr

Pay Hikes For Deputies Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's deputy sheriffs would have a minimum salary of $10,000 a year, with up to $3,000 of it paid by the state, under a bill approved Tuesday by the House.

But the bill triggered long debate, and went to the Senate on a vote of 66-28, raising questions whether it can be enacted before the legislature adjourns for the summer late this week.

Rep. William A. Kopp, D-29 Columbus, the chief sponsor, ran into heated opposition on the floor. Rep. Richard H. Finan, R-19 Cincinnati, and others said the bill sets a precedent that will have municipal police departments coming in next to ask that their salaries be subsidized.

Kopp contended that if there was a precedent, the state set it years ago when it voted to subsidize judges' salaries along with those of officers in juvenile delinquency programs.

Finan claimed if the bill is passed and implemented—there's doubt about the latter because it says the state may pay the subsidies only if funds are available—it could cost the state up to $10 million over the next biennium.

The estimate apparently was based on projections for slightly more than 2,000 "line" deputies, exclusive of jail keepers and process servers, who would qualify for subsidies, based on county populations, of up to $3,000 a man.

Rep. Ethel Swanbeck, R-72 Huron, urging approval, said Ohio's sheriffs and their deputies are the only law enforcement officials in the state charged with the enforcement of every section of state law.

The salaries they receive currently are "a disgrace," Mrs. Swanbeck said.

Kopp said he knows of one deputy who earns only $6,300 a year — "low enough to qualify him and his family for welfare."

Without significant opposition, the House added its approval to six measures already approved by the Senate, some of which must return to the upper chamber for consideration of House changes.

They would:

—Require uninsured motorists' coverage be offered in amounts equal to liability insurance carried by a policyholder.

—Provide for the filling of vacancies in municipal offices.

—Give township police and constables the authority to inspect junkyards.

—Require state repair of street damaged by highway construction.

—Allow totally-disabled veterans to hunt, fish, or trap without a license.

—Require physicians to report burn cases.

The House concurred in Senate amendments, completing passage, of measures prohibiting entry in township cemeteries after dark and allowing the issuance of food stamps within 24 hours to applicants proving emergency need.

By big margins the House and Senate gave their approval to a conference committee report setting a season on red and gray foxes from Nov. 1 to March 15, and outlawing an antiquated practice of county commissioners paying bounties on fox. That measure now goes to the governor.

The House insisted on its amendments to three measures, clearing the way for them to go to conference committees. They included the state school aid bill, a measure adopting the Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act, and another providing procedures for holding an accused in a mental hospital while he awaits trial.

Detroit Violence Brings More Arrests

DETROIT (AP) — Young blacks set fires and smashed windows for the second straight night and vowed to renew their assault on a bar owned by a white man charged with the fatal shooting of a black teenager.

About 300 riot-equipped police advanced in military fashion Tuesday night behind wafting clouds of tear gas, pushing a crowd of several hundred out of a decaying business strip in northwest Detroit.

Ford Meets With Brezhnev For Talks

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, offering a handshake like an American baseball player who had just hit a home run, met President Ford today in a search for a new nuclear arms curb agreement.

Ford, Brezhnev, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger resumed face-to-face diplomacy at a two-hour session at the U.S. ambassador's residence here where the President is staying.

As the conference began, Finnish police took into custody six women outside the grounds who demonstrated on behalf of the cause of Soviet Jewry. Brezhnev apparently did not see the sidewalk demonstration.

With American and Soviet parties lined up facing each other over a dining table, Brezhnev spoke of last week's Apollo-Soyuz mission and declared: "We have done a good job in space."

Ford responded: "The handshake in space is indicative of the progress we've been making."

Brezhnev looked fit despite recurrent reports he has been ill, and told Ford and Kissinger his weight has been stable for six months.

Kissinger joked that his own weight is stable within a 22-pound range.

Ford and Kissinger stepped into the driveway of the three-story hillside residence to greet the Soviet delegation. Brezhnev first shook hands formally with the President, then slapped at the President's right hand in a fashion reminiscent of home run hitters.

Joining Ford and Kissinger on the American side at the meeting were Walter Stoessel, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Undersecretary of State Helmut Sonnenfeldt, and Kissinger aides Brent Scowcroft and Peter Rodman.
